Cairo is the capital of Egypt. It is a very crowded city because millions of people live in it. This becomes worse when thousands of people from different parts of the country come to visit the capital. They come to Cairo on business or for a visit. Some of the streets in Cairo were not made for the great number of people and cars we see today. One should be very careful to go home safe and alive. If people are not careful, accidents may happen. One should drive carefully and walk carefully to avoid those accidents. To be safe, the pavement is the place where people should walk. People who walk in the streets and drivers should follow and respect the traffic signs to avoid accidents. More traffic policemen should always be available to control traffic especially in crowded streets also in rush hours. In addition to that, Cairo suffers also from pollution because of the great number of cars and people in it. To face this problem, people should look forward to working and living in new cities more than Cairo.
